

2. Martin Brechbiel's Sleeping Car & Stock Motor

I'm still working on the Exakta Wagner Sleeping car restoration (noted in the October-November Flyer's "What Does Your Workbench Look Like?") I'm cleaning, restoring and re-detailing the interior of the Exakta (above). I also intend to remove the lettering on the outside and then hi-lite with gold the Wagner Sleeping Car lettering that's buried in the red paint. The stock motor (below) was finished in time for the Battlefield meet. It is derived from TH&E cars that were in service starting in 1906. Yes, trolley cars transported stock. Martin Brechbiel, MMR
