

7. Doug Kirkpatrick's Ice Cream Truck

This photo captures the moment when the ice cream truck came down the street with bells ringing. 25 cents could buy you almost anything on the truck. The only problem was if the truck came too close to dinner time, I could not talk mom into any money. I grew up outside of Annapolis on the shores of the Chesapeake Bay. But later in life our family spent summer vacations in both West Virginia and the hills of Virginia. That's why a N&W J-Class is running behind my Vacation house. Doug Kirkpatrick, MMR
