

10. George Stanis' Merchants Row

Here is my recent kitbash of four Walthers Cornerstone Merchants Row kits cut up and reassembled and a Cornerstone Fire Escape Kit plus probably about 100 hours of work. (When you hit 100 hours it changes from a hobby to work.) The original kit was only 10 5/8" long and only two stories tall with a flat roof look. My kitbash version is three and four stories tall and about 21" long. I have many details still to add on and adjustments to make. I build "railroadie" models. I do not have a layout.

George Stanis

More of George Stanis' Kitbashed Merchants Row diorama

