

3. Alex Belida's Dinosaur

To spice up life when the grandkids visit my Eureka and South Pass Railroad layout, I occasionally insert an unlikely figure like this dinosaur. The layout has also seen a woolly mammoth, a Lego mini-train and small flying saucers. To the grandkids it seems entirely plausible that a dinosaur might have survived in the remote, deep canyons around the town of Eureka in the late 1890s. Alex Belida, MMR
