

7. Martin Brechbiel's Silliness

In the spirit of John Allen there are dinosaurs in the yard, climbing the coaling tower and taking care of business in the sand box. There's also a very large snake lurking around the curve in the background (photo above).

You may have heard of Baba Yaga's hut; here you can see Baba Yaga's outhouse (photo right). The door is ajar, so give the lady a bit of privacy, please! BTW, the outhouse is scratchbuilt board by board and it is indeed "occupied."
